FOREWARD.

*T*he anxiety which always accompanies the development of a new project, no matter how insignificant or grand it may be, is ours.

And so with certain hopes, fears and aims we present to the friends and well-wishers of B. T. Washington this pioneer copy of THE TIGER. In it we have given you a bird's eye view of our lives and goals. We have placed in it something more and yet something not visible to the eye.

We extend to those who may love the things which make for good this volume of THE TIGER, hoping that it will not only inspire but will also make glad those who have the broadness of THE TIGER, his nature and something of the expansiveness in their hearts.

DEDICATION.

*T*he first director of the band at Booker T. Washington. A lover of music for its own sake.

Mr. Mose McClain attended the Music Conservatory in Wichita, Kansas, and the Radio Training School in Los Angeles, California.

We give praise and gratitude to one who has worked so untiringly, furnished band instruments and other equipment to us without receiving any compensation other than the pleasure of giving.

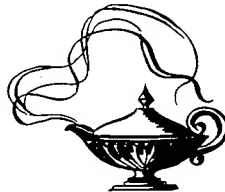

School History

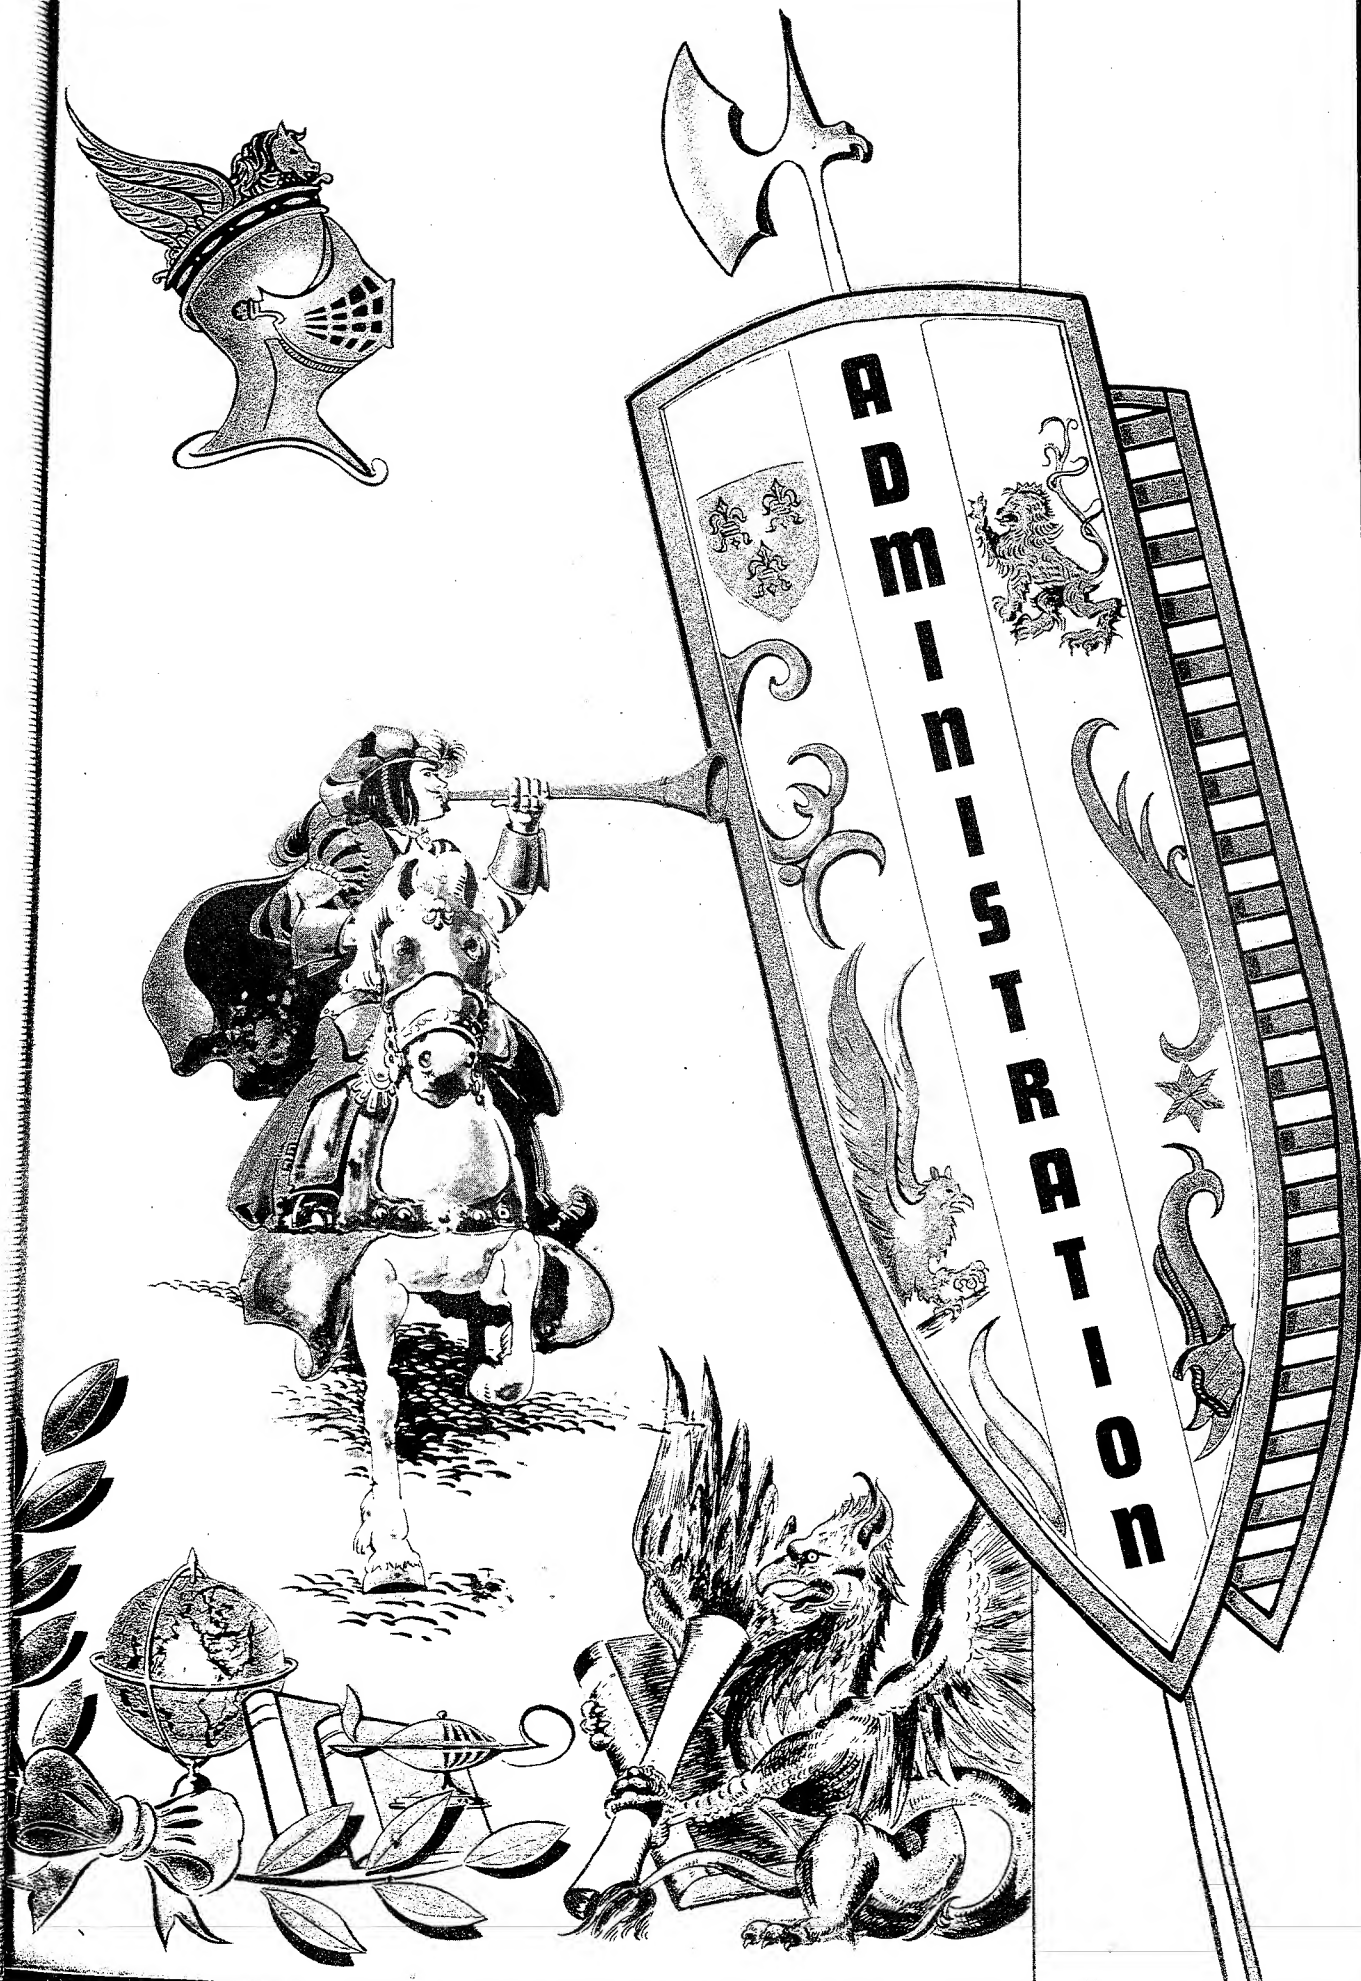

This historical sketch would be more interesting to you the readers, if the school had available records of its' growth, unfortunately we have no such records. We have gathered from reasonably reliable sources the information that we bring to you.

The first Booker T. Washington school was located on East Skelly Street in the 1400 block. Mrs. T. C. Martin was elected as teacher. The school was made a two teacher school in 1938 with Mr. Kaffie being added to the staff. In 1940 the school was moved to the present location. Mr. L. E. Pigford was elected principal. In 1948 Mr. E. D. Littleton succeeded Mr. Pigford.

At present we have a staff of thirteen and more than 350 students. We are anxiously awaiting the completion of a new unit which includes adequate facilities for all high school classes and gymnasium activities.

To the students and friends of Booker T. Washington School:
As you turn the pages of this book many enjoyable memories will be brought to your mind. These memories were made possible by the tireless work of others. So, in behalf of all of us who will enjoy this book, I wish to express our sincere appreciation to each member of the yearbook staff and the sponsor for their fine work.

This book will be a perpetual monument for your service and success. This work should be an incentive to each of you to strive for what you want and not to depend on chance.

As the school continues to grow, and necessity calls upon us to encroach upon new endeavors, let us consider the following quotation by Johnson, "Few things are impossible to diligence and skill."

ANNUAL STAFF

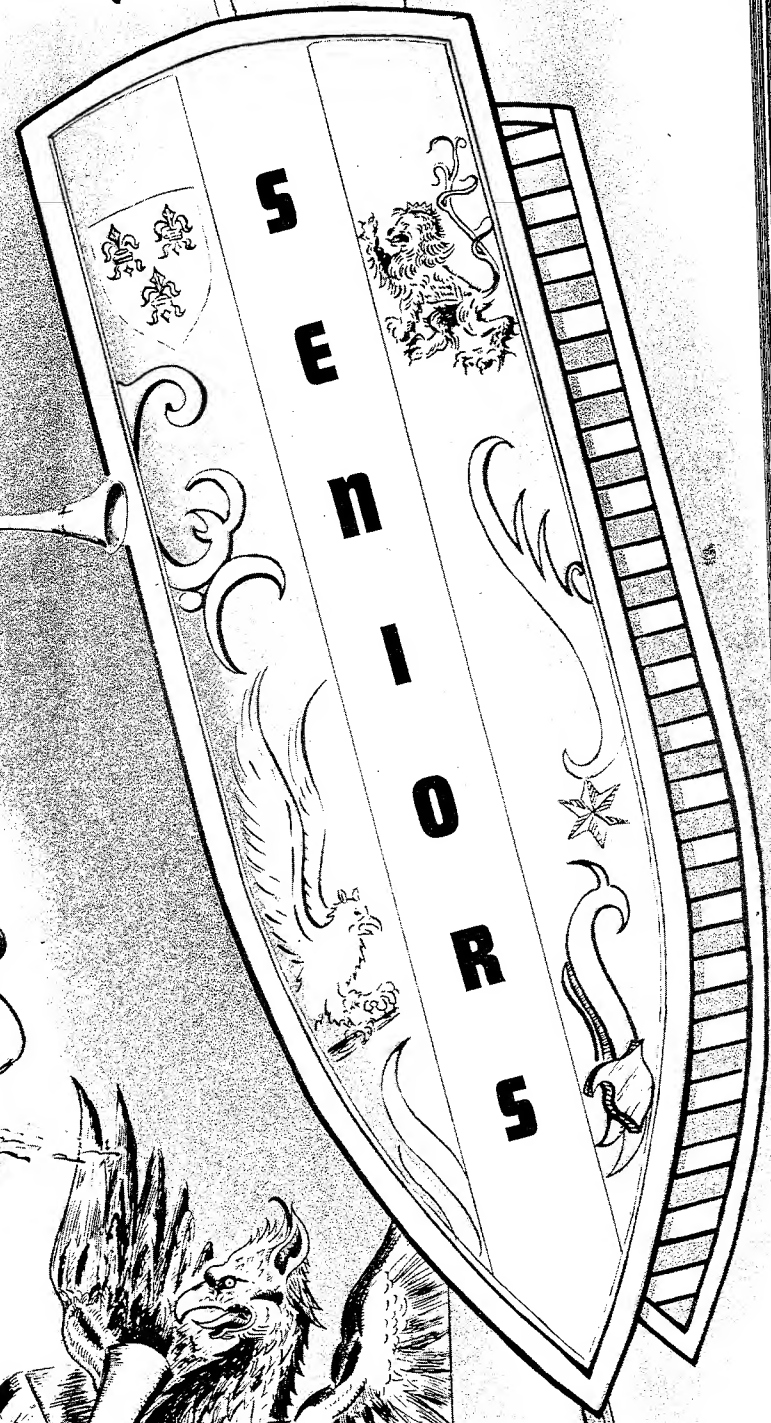

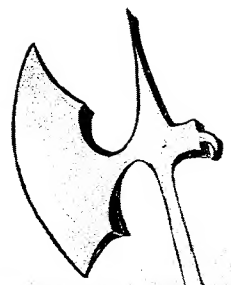

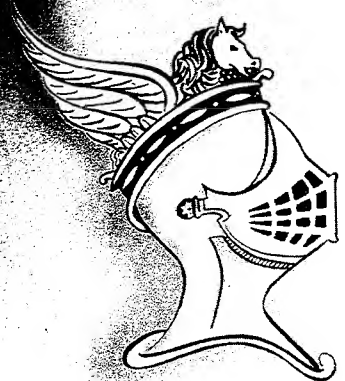

As the staff members of this, the first annual publication of the Booker T. Washington High School, we do not feel that the responsibility of the task is too great, but that we are not able to grasp the complete worth of this book to you. If you receive a breath of the spirit of THE TIGER from this book, our aim has been achieved.

Such a task as this is essentially the work of everyone in the school, but the immediate labor involved must necessarily be performed by a few.

We bring to you this book hoping that it will reflect the true spirit of THE TIGER. We are conscious of the fact that the expectations of the public are high. Knowing this, we have done our best; and having done our best, we feel that we have no apologies to offer.

THE ANNUAL STAFF:

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

*T*his page has been reserved for the history of the Senior Class of 1951. We wish to make this page instead, a dedication. A dedication to history that will be made by a group of young men and women with a grim determination to prepare for the place they must fill in the future.

The present Senior class bears no resemblance to the class that entered the 9th grade in 1947. Only two of the original class remain. Since all cannot be included in our past, let us begin our history here. We have all learned to work together toward a common goal - SUCCESS. It does not matter about the year, one has joined the group, cooperation and willingness to work has made us one.

JUNIOR CLASS

History

On the first day of school, September 1948, fifteen bright-faced youngsters took their places and pondered the beginning of their high school career. Six boys and nine girls. All wondering what the big difference between junior high school and high school might be.

Once adjustments were made, these ninth graders organized their class. Paul Ann Taylor was elected president and Mary Lou Creer the treasurer. Though the first year of high school is an unforgettable one, none of the fifteen shed tears when May and summer vacations rolled around.

"Tempus fugit!" September 1949, back to school, but this time instead of bewildered freshmen, here were we wise and important Sophomores. Oh, but algebra, biology and history made us wonder if we are so wise. Johnnie Mae Wells was elected president of the class and Mary Lou Creer retained the honor of treasurer. We were proud that year in contributing four of our fellows to the football team and four to the basketball team. How proud we were that year, that is until the Junior and Senior Prom in April. Those Junior and Senior girls in their beautiful dresses and the fellows, oh, so handsome, dined and danced the evening away. What of us? We were sophomores and our duties were many and varied. We cooked the meal, served the banquet, and collected wraps at the prom. There is one nice thing about being a sophomore in April, vacations begin in May.

Very dignified were we juniors of 1950. We were now eleven in number. Class was organized during the second week of school. Betty F. White was elected president and Johnnie Wells treasurer. This will be a busy year for the juniors. Already three junior boys are on the football and basketball teams. Work has gone far in preparing for the grandest Junior and Senior Prom in the history of Washington High School.

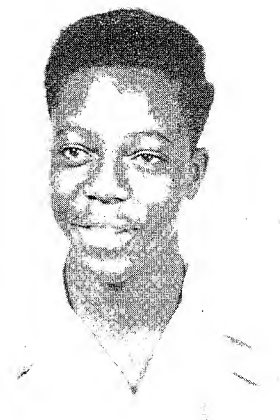

It is our hope that we have been and will be a credit to the high school we so dearly love. We pause now in our brief history with our class motto: "Come Now, Let Us Reason Together."

Willie P. Conner

"Popular, beautiful, brilliant."

Alfred L. Hilliard
